

Prof. Michael Hsieh

Professor

Schistosomiasis Resource Centre, USA

---

Professor Hsieh is the Margaret A. Stirewalt Endowed Director of the Biomedical Research Institute, where he serves as the Principal Investigator for the Bladder Immunology Group (BIG). BIG is an NIH-funded research laboratory focused largely on urogenital schistosomiasis, urinary tract infections, and chemical carcinogens as models to better understand bladder and epithelial biology. Professor Hsieh is an Associate Professor at the George Washington University in Washington, DC, and the Director of the Clinic for Adolescent and Adult Pediatric Onset Urology (CAPITUL) at Children's National Health System and George Washington University.