

Dr. Jun Cao

Professor, Deputy Director
Jiangsu Institute of Parasitic Diseases

Dr. Jun Cao is Professor at Jiangsu Institute of Parasitic Diseases (JIPD), PR. China, Vice Chair, Jiangsu Medical Association Tropical Medicine and Parasitology Committee. He started his career of malaria control/elimination and research in Jiangsu Province since 2000. At present, he serves as the Deputy Director in JIPD, carrying out scientific research on malaria and other parasitic diseases, mainly interested in epidemiology, diagnosis, drug-resistant, parasite and host interaction, which provide better understanding on the parasite and evidence for control/elimination. He serves as the Executive Director of WHO Collaborating Centre for Research and Training on Malaria Elimination which base in JIPD.